2. Received call from Adm. Inglis, Chief of Naval Intelligence, regarding the position he should take before the Brown Sub-Committee. He stated he would support our position fully, but that he felt NSCID No. 2 did not specifically state that the ambassador had veto power over CIA, although the responsibilities for coordination must conceivably be construed to have the same force and effect. Discussed the general legal position with him.

3. Question of release of an OSS loyalty file was discussed with Mr. Hopkins of the White House General Counsel Staff, who recommended that it be discussed with Mr. Clifford and the facts were placed before Mr. Clifford's secretary for action.
